USE CONDITIONS

This Site is supplied by Forinst “as it is as available”. Forinst does not provide any warranty, explicit or implicit, on the Site functions, the information, the contents, the materials or the products present in this Site.

It will not be responsible for possible damages of whatever type and nature deriving from the use of this Site, included, but not limited to, direct, indirect, incidental, punitive and consequential damages.

Forinst can include hyper-textual links to web sites owned or managed by third parties. When the user enters these links, he should examine and accept the use conditions of that site before using it. The user must also accept that Forinst has no control on the contents of those sites and cannot take the responsibility for materials created and published on third parties' sites.

Unless explicitly and differently stated, anyone who sends some contents to any of our servers, for instance by E-mail or through the pages of the web site Forinst.it, accepts that: such contents do not include any illegal information or unsuited to publishing; anyone who sends the contents retains their property or the exclusive right of sending them and that Forinst can publish the material and/or integrate it, or whichever concept there described, into our products, without any obligation or responsibility; anyone who sends the contents gives up undertaking any recourse against us in relation to the sent material; anyone who sends the contents accepts to indemnify Forinst if a third party undertakes any action against us owing to the sent material; anyone who sends the contents will adopt reasonable methods to identify and eliminate any information virus or other contaminating or destructive factors before sending any content.

PRIVACY

The handling of the personal data of visitors or of users enjoying services is accomplished in conformity with the Italian national regulations about privacy and in particular with the Legislative Decree 196/03.

Whenever visitors enjoy specific services, the proper informative report will be supplied at the signature and, if necessary, the agreement to the handling of one's own personal data will be requested. Eventual personal data communicated by visitors and users will be used by Forinst according to the agreement they have expressed.

Cookies, which represent a technology used by web sites to identify users in the ambit of a working session, are used neither to trace the users' surfing nor to collect their personal data but exclusively to permit the site surfing and the availability of the related services.

Owner of the personal data handling is Forinst with legal offices at Torino (TO). Via R.Lambruschini,10. Responsible for the handling is the temporary legal representative (e-mail: info@forinst.it), you can address to exercise your rights and to ask further information.
